Mam has given knowledge about how women have been treated from past to present by society. No matter how much we suffer we are still treated the same. Women can do a lot more than what they think they can. Woman cannot get off from their responsibility no matter how much they do it's still less for the family and society. All girls deserve a better future and women should be empowered by themselves.

She explained in detail the importance of women, how she can be the change for the society. She gave the example of Ramayan and Mahabharat, women should stand up for one's own dignity and teach male around us to respect women.

She concluded the session by interacting with a girl child and called them to come forward and talk about their point of view. One girl child of FYBCOM talked about their point of view about the national girl child day event celebration. Session was over after principal sir's speech and vote of thanks by Anita Yadav.

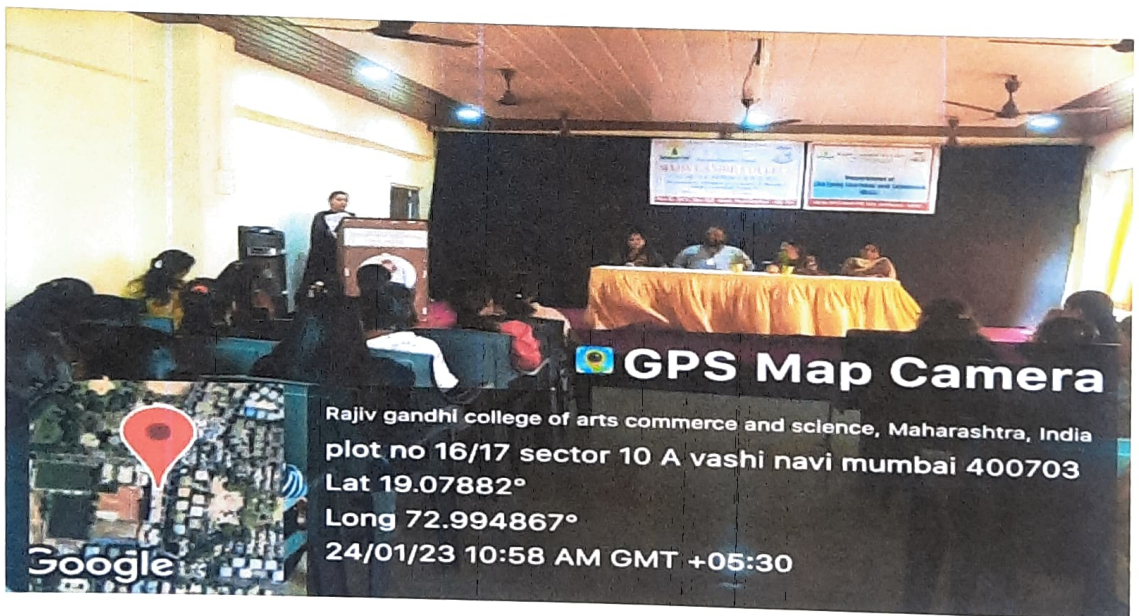

Overall the session was very interactive and motivated the students.
